Statement of Participation

Hereby I state that

Marc Monfort Grau

attended

Online PATC@BSC Training Course: Managing distributed data with Hecuba and dataClay 27 January, 2022

Learning outcomes: In the course, the Hecuba and dataClay syntax, programming methodology and an overview of their internals will be given. Also, an overview of COMPSs at user level will be provided in order to take advantage of the distribution of data with both platforms. The attendees will get a first lesson about programming with the common storage interface that will enable them to start programming with both frameworks.
